Profile

Jennifer B. Zourigui (née Schain) focuses her practice on complex commercial litigation, including business disputes, employment matters, real estate litigation and creditors' rights issues in bankruptcy court. She has handled a diverse array of cases in both federal and state courts. Jennifer also advises clients on a variety of employment matters, including employment agreements, employee handbooks, and enforcement of non-compete and non-solicitation agreements.

Jennifer is a steadfast advocate for her clients and believes in creative thinking regarding both the legal and practical issues that impact her clients and their businesses. She believes the key to a successful attorney-client relationship is understanding each client's goals and implementing a strategy that best fits the client's needs. Jennifer has the dedication and experience to fight for her clients to the finish but also believes, when appropriate, in early dispute resolution to avoid the cost of protracted or unnecessary litigation. Whatever the task at hand, Jennifer is committed to seeking the best result possible for her clients.

While in law school, Jennifer was an Associate Editor of the University of Pennsylvania Journal of Labor and Employment Law. She also participated in the Child Advocacy Clinic and interned at the District Attorney's Office of Nassau County. Jennifer has been named a Rising Star by the Super Lawyers legal directory.
